

FAQ

General Questions:

Practice time is determined by the individual coaches. Generally, once a sport starts there is a practice every day except when there is a game/match. Some sports do not practice on Fridays but again that is up to the individual coach. Typically, there would not be practices on an early release day as our staff, many of which are coaches, would be involved in the inservices done on the early release day. Practice schedules will be provided after the first week. By that time teams will be divided up and schedules can be printed.
